Continuation Sheet    Bosque Farms Rodeo Association (BFRA) [Revised 18Apr08]    EIN - 85-0475757

Part IV. Narrative Description of Your Activities

Describe completely and in detail your past, present, and planned activities. Do not refer to or repeat the purposes in your organizing document. You may refer to other parts of the application rather than repeat information provided elsewhere.

Bosque Farms Rodeo Association History

The Bosque Farms Rodeo Association was incorporated in 1964 by members of the communities of Bosque Farms, Peralta, and other surrounding areas of Valencia County, New Mexico. The driving force behind this initiative was to provide a family-oriented organization with facilities to support the growth and education of the children of the communities to learn the skills and values of rural, agricultural America. The land for the Association was purchased from a local farmer and facilities were built with contributions of time, money, and materials by the Association members and local businesses. Over the years, the Association has taken out mortgages on the land and facilities to invest in capital improvements (concession stand appliances, pipe fences and corrals, updated water supplies and utilities, etc.), and the Association currently has a small mortgage that it is rapidly paying down.

The commitment of volunteerism provided the foundation for the growth and sustainment of the Association over the past 40 years and remains the primary resource for the routine operation and maintenance of the facilities.

In the first ten years, the Association emphasized creating youth programs and events for children 18 and under that provide opportunities for the local community to invest in developing skills and experience in horsemanship and friendly competition. The events and activities were typically open to youth from the entire community, not just Association member families, so the investment was truly for the good of the community at large.

From its earliest development, the Association formed a partnership with the Bosque Farms Community Fair Board to make the facilities available for the annual Community Fair. The Bosque Farms Community Fair has been in existence for over 60 years and is one of the longest continually operations community fairs in the United States. Members of the Association also volunteered to sponsor and participate in organizing many of the programs and activities held during the Fairs.

The Association continued to expand the programs it sponsors and make its facilities available to the others to host rodeo, equestrian and horse show events. This has included hosting the annual New Mexico High School Rodeo, the New Mexico Junior High School Rodeo, and the New Mexico Rodeo Association's annual rodeo.

Current Activities and Programs

The Association's mission is to support and develop the minds and bodies of the youth of the community through a broad range of equestrian and rodeo activities. First, as an all-volunteer organization, the planning and execution of the programs are done by the Association's volunteer members without compensation. Also, the routine maintenance and upkeep of the facilities and grounds is done by Association members, with donated support and assistance from the local business community. Even with over 50 active family memberships, there is still plenty to do to keep the Association facilities and its activities vibrant and focused on our mission.

Four activities sponsored by the Association that are the major focus of the Association's activities are the Winter Series of the Bosque Farms Junior Rodeo, the youth barrel practice and play days, and continued support for the Bosque Farms Community Fair.

The Bosque Farms Junior Rodeo is the largest and longest-running youth oriented Rodeo in New Mexico for children under the age of 18. The competitors are divided into age groups to compete for awards. The Winter Series was begun over twenty years ago to provide a rodeo and horsemanship competition during the winter months when most other similar events were in hiatus. The Winter Series provides the opportunity for over 200 families from New Mexico and neighboring states to enjoy a family event. The series runs for three or four weekend events. Almost all the funds raised through donations, entry fees and contributions are returned to the youth participants in the form of competition prizes and recognition awards.

The Association sponsors two training series that provide an opportunity for young equestrians to learn and practice their horsemanship and rodeo skills in a casual, non-competitive learning environment. The Tuesday Night Barrels summer series, which is open to the public, provides an evening of timed practice of three rodeo events in a professional arena venue. The event allows riders of all ages – with the primary emphasis on youth – to hone their skills in a friendly, non-competitive environment. The Horseplay Days are a fall and winter series on weekends that follows the pattern of the Tuesday Night Barrels, except it is limited to youth under the age of 18. Besides the rodeo events, a Horseplay Days include series of “games” is included that help riders build confidence in working with their horses and improve their riding skills. Participants are grouped by age to compete in timed events and ribbons are awarded to the top contestants.

Important components of the youth-oriented rodeo programs are the awards and prizes given to each child to recognize their commitment. These prizes and awards range from simple ribbons or plaques for the Horseplay Days to major awards of saddles, silver belt buckles, and horse tack as the top prizes in each age group for the Winter Series rodeos. Each year the Association invests almost half of its revenues for these awards that are a strong incentive for children to prepare for and participate in the programs.

The Association has sponsored and hosted an annual Christmas Bazaar and Crafts Fair for over 20 years. This highly anticipated event makes the Association facilities available to local craftsmen and tradesmen to present their products and wares in a cheerful Holiday venue. Although the Association charges a modest fee for use of the facilities as a fundraiser, the overarching intent is to provide a community service.

The Association makes its arena facilities available at very reasonable rates, or in some cases for free, for youth oriented events sponsored by other organizations and to various horse and rodeo organizations to put on horse shows and competitions. These events are not specifically sponsored by the Association, but provide excellent opportunities for youth in the community to learn good sportsmanship and the challenges of competition. The rental fees are also an important source of income. The current list of regular events includes:

- 4-H Horse Project Competition (Youth under 18)
- 4-H Dog Show (Youth under 18)
- Valencia County Rodeo Queen Competition (Youth under 18)
- Future Farmers of America Dinners and Dances (Youth under 18 and families)
- Annual Trophy Horse Show (Youth under 18)
- Buckskin Association Horse Show (All ages)
- Pinto Association Horse Show (All ages)
- Bosque Farms Dressage Show (All ages)

The Association also co-sponsors 4-H Youth Dances and community Youth Dances to give the youth of the community a safe, supervised place for fun and entertainment.

The Association has also made our facilities available to other charitable organizations at no cost. This has included a local Cowboy Church group and several spay/neuter clinics sponsored by animal rescue charities.

The Association has worked with St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital to sponsor an annual "Saddle-up for St. Jude" fundraiser. St. Jude is a world renowned pediatric treatment and research facility anywhere. Discoveries made there have completely changed how the world treats children with cancer and other catastrophic diseases. They have some of today's most gifted researchers. Doctors across the world send their toughest cases and most vulnerable patients. Where no one pays for treatment beyond what is covered by insurance, and those without insurance are never asked to pay. The Association chose to support St. Jude's because its children-focused health-care charity is so consistent with the Association's youth oriented mission.

"Saddle-Up for St. Jude" is a fun, community trail-riding event. It is a volunteer-based, fund-raising event for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in which participants take part in a fun horseback trail ride that is organized by the Association. The Association provides participants with sponsorship materials and then they contact family and friends to gather donations for taking part in the ride. In addition to providing visibility for the Association's programs and facilities, the event brings members of the community together through volunteering and fund raising to support the children being helped by St. Jude's Hospital. Community members throughout the Valencia County and Albuquerque area raise donations and pledges that go to St. Jude's. Association members lay out the trail in the bosque, solicit donations from local businesses to provide prizes and recognition awards to the participants, and also provide a barbecue lunch at the end of the event. All donations submitted by the participants are collected at the event by the Association and forwarded to St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital. Check contributions are made out to St. Jude's. Cash contributions are aggregated in a checking account and a single check sent to St. Jude's. The Association raised over $40,000 in donations for St. Jude's Children's Hospital in the last eight years.

The Association also rents out the Cowboy Hall meeting facilities as a way to support other community oriented organizations by making our facilities available at a reasonable rate and to raise funds to support the maintenance and operations of the Association facilities.

Planned Activities and Programs

The Association has a very full agenda of youth and community oriented programs and activities that will remain a key focal point for our mission. The Association has made a commitment to continue to support and expand these programs and activities into the future.

The Association's facilities are a unique resource that is disappearing in other communities because of a lack of support and commitment. It is not only a valuable asset to the local community, but organizations outside the local community have recognized it as an excellent venue that meets their needs.

However, many of the Association's facilities are showing their age. To continue to successfully achieve our mission objectives and also meet the growing demand for the kind of top-notch facilities the Association provides, the Board of Directors have established a near term focus to develop a Master Plan for upgrades and improvements to the facilities and to obtain grants and support from other funding sources to make these improvements. The State of New Mexico has appropriated funds for the development of rodeo and horse show facilities and our State Senator, Charles Taylor, has committed to support our efforts to obtain these and other State funds.

The Association's commitment to current programs and activities and our emphasis on planning for the future will ensure continued success.
